

Software Retirement Bulletin: February 2016

End of Support: Once support ends, the manufacturer no longer issues security fixes or any other updates to the product, representing a high risk to the state and agency operations. Agencies must plan to migrate from this software before the end of support date.

	Product Name & Version	End of Support Date
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Microsoft SQL Server 2005</li> </ul>	04/12/2016

End of Mainstream Support: Once mainstream support ends, the manufacturer will no longer issue software enhancements or fixes, representing a risk to the agency's business operations. The manufacturer will continue to issue security fixes for a period of time.

Warning: There are potentially high impacts to migrate from these products. You should start planning your migration to new versions as soon as possible.

	Product Name & Version	Mainstream Support Ended/Ends
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Microsoft Server 2008</li> </ul>	01/13/2015
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Microsoft Windows 7</li> </ul>	01/13/2015
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Microsoft Office 2010</li> </ul>	10/13/2015
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Microsoft SharePoint Server 2010</li> </ul>	10/13/2015
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Oracle Java SE 6</li> </ul>	12/31/2015
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Oracle My SQL Database 5.5</li> </ul>	12/31/2015

Reminder: You must have an approved waiver with mitigations in place to continue to operate instances of MS SQL Server 2003, Internet Explorer 6,7, 8, or 10 or Adobe Acrobat Version 10 in your environment.